Recap: more than 600 days of war

In late February 2022, a 60 km-long column of Russian tanks was snaking its way towards Kyiv. Instead of giving in to fear, we decided to act: we created Ukrainian Patriot and were joined by many people from all over the world. To read more about our volunteers, click here.

It has now been more than 600 days of Russia's full-scale invasion; more than 600 days of Russian missiles and bombs destroying civilian and industrial buildings, agricultural and energy infrastructure - as well as the Kakhovka Dam.

THE RUSSIANS DESTROYED MORE THAN 120,000 CIVILIAN INFRASTRUCTURE FACILITIES, INCLUDING POWER PLANTS, GAS PIPELINES, SCHOOLS, KINDERGARTENS, AS WELL AS 1.5 MILLION HOMES.

Our Response

Five days following the start of Russia's full-scale invasion, we swung into action, responding to requests from individuals and organizations seeking help. We vet these requests and deliver essential items to those in need on the ground in Ukraine.

We collaborate with trusted local contacts all over the country. Our connections play a crucial role and ensure that the assistance is targeted and effective, which is critical under war conditions.

We are that last mile that allows aid from all over the world to get to where it needs to most.

We have served more than 11 oblasts (regions) and 50 towns, cities, and locations around Ukraine - almost all of which are just kilometers from the frontline. Our volunteers must navigate roads and infrastructure damaged from direct fire, while subject to sounds of regular and frequent explosions to the point that it becomes “normal” background noise.

PILLAR 4

PTSD and Psychological Trauma Assistance

We provide assistance to address the severe emotional and psychological toll that conflict, displacement, and other traumatic events can have on the mental well-being of civilians in Ukraine.

17 THERAPEUTIC DANCE SESSIONS

We have offered 17 therapeutic dance sessions to eastern and southern Ukrainian communities, many of which suffered under occupation for months. These sessions allow the children of these communities an opportunity to forget about - if only for a short time - the realities of war and provide a way of coping with trauma that may be affecting their day-to-day activities.

We regularly work with children at different schools and communities around the country. Our volunteers help teach them English, assist in their general socialization, and give them hope - and sweets!

The children interact with people from different nationalities, practice their English, play, and feel like kids again. We let them know they are not forgotten by the world.

Rebuilding Assistance

Here in Ukraine, many have suffered a profound loss that is measured both in lives and in homes. Waiting for the war to be over is not an option when people are in desperate need of support. Our Rebuilding program offers a helping hand to those who have been hit with devastation and loss.

We focus on both human & animal welfare, providing invaluable physical and financial support to help individuals rebuild their lives and to restore the sanctuaries of our beloved animal companions.

In the Donetsk area, we built a new addition to an animal shelter that will serve as a warm home to about 20 dogs.

We helped rebuild 3 facilities in different areas of Ukraine:

- a home for a family that was hit by artillery. Now they can start to rebuild their lives.
- two volunteer hubs, in Iziium and Kherson, that support both volunteers and civilians where people can get help and help others.

We give hugs and hope to many, many people, hope that keeps them going.

Words from Lana

There are so many requests for help and so many people hurting. With every day of the war, so many start to lose hope. I could get lost in this darkness very easily, but that would render me useless. So I pay attention to the light, when and why it appears. I choose to move towards it and work with what I can control, rather than what I cannot.

We couldn't do what we do without you. Thank you!

Our story continues and we look forward to sharing more. We are grateful for your energy and support. Together we can achieve great things; every donation helps us to bring more light, love, hope, and connection to the people of Ukraine.

With much appreciation,
